The excellent outline map of Alaska, showing the boundary lines claimed by British authorities, published in our moraing edition today, will afford readers a clear idea of the argent necessity for some American representation of a military character up in that region. The true boundary line, acknowledged by England uptil 1884, is plainly defined on the map. Nost of the valuable gold districts so far discovered are within it; but cutode of the lines, since impudently claimed by Canada after the importance of the region as a mineral resource came to the attention of the Ottawa government. Canadian resented police are on their way up there to take passession of territory concerning which there is not the least ground for dispute, and out of which they propose to shut American citizens except upon terms of exaction which would be outrageous if the land Were British territory, but which, under existing circumstances, only could be termed infamous and intelerable. Well, it is said that one or two of our own gunboats will winter un there! Naval officers will know where the boundary is, and, what with their bloejackets and marines, there will be a military nucleus around which the Amerkean miners can rally. Unless our Government should give to our naval comguanders instructions of an emasculating thurseter, perhaps they will be able to handle the situation all right. This bound ary question is an additional one as to which we would have been beautifully left if the Olney-Pauncefote treaty could have been bought or builled through the Senate. Doubtless It will be used as everage to lift another one on the nadonal back; but the American people certeinly know by this time that any affair of ours, submitted to a European monarch ical tribunal, must surely be decided in European monarchical interests. From that standpoint, the majority of Amer icans, some trusts, monopolies and Brit 1sh agercies excepted, would much rather

The Illinois coal field was the scene of a little trouble yesterday, when 400 diggers from neighboring territory raided the mines at Roanoke, and succeeded in compelling the operators to agree not to work outil the end of the general strike. The visiting delegation seized a Santa Fe train, and held it for some bours, and an attempt was made by unknown persons to burn the Santa Fe railway bridge near the town. In the West Vir ginia and Indiana fields, and in the South generally, the situation appears to be without notable change. On the labor side of the question, the opinion appears firm that the De Armitt and West Virginia diggers must come out at once or a universal syminthetic strike of all organized labor will have to be reserted to. Of the power and ability of the leaders to effect such a serious national movement nobody outside of their own councils can form any intel-Beent estimate. Operators argue that since the officers of the United Mine Workers were only able to secure a partial strike of diggers, it is fair to presume that an order for a general suspension of all industrial work might not be better abeyed. The conditions generally have reached a critical stage, and must experience either an ebb or a flow without many days' delay.

It would seem from current indications that the Eastern question has grown tired of staying around Constantinopie on ball, so to speak, and has concluded to break out in a new spot. It is needless to remark that this spot is the Chitral district in northern India, inhabited by a wild and savage tribe of Moslem fanatics fiercely at ennity with their nominal mass ter, the British government. Our morning dispatches gave details of renewed attacks upon the small British force cantoned in the valley. About 40,000 tribesmen for days have been hurling themselves against the gallant few hundred English and Sikh soldiers, and it is to be feared that these must be sacrificed before the arrival of re-enforcements. The incident affords a new illustration of one pecultarity in British administration. Trouble seldom breaks out anywhere in the empire without startwith the massacre of some small royal partison. The government never seems have any prevision in such cases. So it was in Zululand, and in a dozen other instances that could be cited. In the present one, the Indian authorities are without excuse. The logic of the situation in Eastern Europe should have been ample totice of danger from a Mohammedan uprising, and most of all in districts covering the passes of the Hindoo Koosh, thenditary avenues connecting British with Russian Asia. Yet a mere handful of English and native troops has been left unsupported in a region swarming with the most dangerous enemies, and now we see the usual consequences. It is to be bosed, of control that relief may reach the beleaguered garrison in time to save part of it; but the reports, colored as they are in passing through Indian official channels, are gloomy enough.

For some time past the hyena Weyler has been boasting that he had killed the patriot, Gen. Quentin Bandera in the battle of Papaya Heights in Santa Clara. In that engagement Weyler's forces were routed with great claughter; so he considered it necessary to report the victorious commander as dead as a sort of consolation purse. Today's dispatches from Havana show that Gen. Bandera not only is alive, week ended Saturday. July 24, 1867, was as but that he has crossed into Havana province at the head of his division, and is marching rapidly toward the city to joie in its investment. Skirmishing in the suburbs of Havana is of daily occurrence. A few days ago fifteen Spanish soldiers were killed in a skirndsh in full sight of

In view of such conditions and the rage

and panic of the Spanish soldiers and resi dents in Havana, the outlook for the Competitor and other American prisoners is blue, indeed. As to the former, Weyler has received orders from Madrid to hold their cases up until Canovas can get "the Cortes off his hands," when sentence will be passed without fear of legislative interference. Thus, the Spanish premier takes a leaf from the policy of our own Adminis tration. It is to be feared that the relatives and friends of Americans in Spanish dungeous, whether held as prisoners of war or on suspicion, must make up their minds to hear of their massacre before long. They could be safe, at liberty and at home within a week if this were a government actuated by patriotic sentiments or the least concern for the lives and liberties of its citizens. A couple of warships could go to Havana and secure the release of every American Imprisoned in Cuta within twenty-four hours after sighting Moro Castle. Such thoughts are not to be allowed to disturb the smitner calm of the Administration, singing hyuns of gladness with the little birds on the verdant above of Lake Champlain. Even the diamond-fronted clerks in the hotel office sernly have been ordered not to shout "front!" when they want a belltoy. "Front!" is a technical military, as well as a caravansary expression, and is calculated to remind His Excellency of war-especially of the horrible war in Cuba, where women and little girls are being outraged and butchered by Spanish fiends every day. We will not be first to ruffle the smooth surface of Mr. McKinley's idyllic retirement. On the contrary, we will invite him to get out his little "Number three collection," and sing, while we pick the harp for him, these beautiful lines:

How tiest is be who ne'er consents By ill-advice to walk! Omitting, if you please, the last three stanzas!"

MCKINLEY HURT HIS FRIENDS.

Political Henchmen Sorely Distress ed by the Civil Service Ruling.

The civil service reform order issued by the President Wednesday continues to be the source of a great deal of talk about the hotels and in the departments. There is no disguising the fact that among the President's most intimate friends there is a feeling of disappointment that he should have gone to this length at so early a period. By way of criticism these men say that he should at least have permitted the heads of the departments to weed out some of the objectionable men who had seen put in the departments by the Demo crats and then kept there through the gen eral order of May 6, 1896.

To the friends of genuine civil service eform the order has the true ring, and it now only remains for the com and the heads of departments to see that it is enforced. If such is done it will be the first time in the history of the counout into effect. Up to now civil service reform has been more or less of a make shift, enforced when the exigencies of the occasion demanded it and a voided when artisan politics suggested ft.

the campaign this order means much for it operates as an estoppel upon any an all pledges they may make of political office. It is thought by some that the more radical Republicans who do not go so far as the President may make it an issue an fight their battles on lines inimical to civil service reform. If any considerable faction of the party win on this line, there may be an leteresting struggle in the next Congress to repeal the law. The Repub-lican party, in its platform, and the Presi-dent, in his inaugural, both stand pledged to a genuine civil service reform, and i is not believed that individual members of the party can succeed among the people and go counter to the will of the highest polit-

The army of Saks buyers has lovaded the market upon two missions—to place fall orders—and to improve the wonderful opportunities that bon poless capital commands over the surplusses of the present season. As a result there will be placed before you tomor row an aggregation of special offerings—values that appeal to your highest approbation at prices that will excite your greatest appreciation.

$6 Sult Sale.

SAKS AND COMPANY.

Tomorrow the most notable event in Clothing annais will terminate. Upon no other occasion can you recall the privilege to select from $10, $12.50 and $15 values for a pairy $96. These are not suits condemned by popular judgment—resurrected under bargain sale auspices—neither are they truck that was manufactured for sensational effect. But they are Saks Suits—made by us at the beginning of this season—a part of the finest stock of Clothing that was ever gathered under a roof—surrinced now, rather than stored away till next season. The Saks guarantee is back of you.

48c. for Straw Hats, Worth up to $2.

Another unapproachable oppor-tunity. The Hats are on the tables – just come right in and help your-selves. They are marked at the regular prices—some $2-some $1.75 —some $1.50—but cheapest or best they are all this season's shapes.

43c. for Ladies' Straw Sailors, Worth $1.25.

They are plain colors that fash-ion calls for in the distinguishing shapes of the season. There is a bet-ter quality at 73c. which embraces values up to $2.50.

37c. for Children's Straw Sailors, Worth 98c.

And another lot for 69c., containing values up to $1.98. These are not "seconds," but the newest and best straws made.

A Sweeping Offer of Ladies' Shirt Waists at 26c.

Por waists worth up to $1.48. The balancy of the stock, including the $5 and $6 waists are divided into five lots for tomorrow—36c., 58c., 58c., 58c., 98c., and $1.98. They are all the Sake brand and Sake patterns, in Lappet Cloths, Organdies, Lawns, and fine Muslims. We are getting ready for slock taking; that is the reason for this recklessness. You are too well tutored for need of us to remind you that there is no comparison to be made between these, this season's Waists of ours, and the old styles, undesirable patterns, with which others are trying to hold up their end with us.

The Lowest Yet for Pampas Linen Suits $2.28.

As popular as Pampas has been the stock-taking event drives us to sacrifice about thirty $5, 7, and $8 grades. You cannot possibly get Pampas Lineh anywhere else, nor equivalent value at such a price.

Last Day of the Men's | Ladies' Lawn Dresses, $2.09.
21 of our $6, $7 and $8 exclusive styles in Fide Lawn Dresses will be closed out tomorrow for $2.09.

Ladies' White Duck

Skirts. 83c.

-that are worth $1.50-that has been the price all the season. They are the Saks kind, which means proper length and proper hang. 22 bargains for the first 22 coniers.

14c. for Ladies' Leather Belts, Worth up to 40c.

Tan, Black, Green and Brown Alli-gator and Russia Leather, with nickel and brass harness buckles. The retail price everywhere, 25c., 35c. and 40c.—here tomorrow, 14c. 45c. for Men's Percale

Negligee Shirts, Worth 75c and $1. They are made of the very best French goods, have latestsylecollar and cuffs attached, and at the first of the season were accounted a "smart" purchase at 75c and $1.

2 for 25c. for Men's Half Hose, That are worth 20c a pair. They are black and tan, with spliced becksand tons—warranted fast color.

59c. for Men's $1.25 Negligee Shirts,
Made of fine Madras, in checks, stripes and plaids. These are manmade shirts: cut upon perfect-fitting patterns. We bought two lots, $1 and $1.25, and have bunched them for tomorrow at $9c.

Men's 25c. Belts, With Harness Buckle, 19c. Tan and black. The same quality and style that we offered last week, and you are fortunate to be ac-corded a second privilege at this Imported Japonette Handkerchiefs, 9c. These Handkerchiefs have a large slik embroidered initial and one inch stitched hem. They are worth 20c. We shall sell them tomorrow for 9c each, 6 for 50c.

3 Bargains in Men's Underwear, at 25c. For 35c quality—39c for 50c quality—50c for 75c quality. All three are balleriggan, perfectly fashioned, property made, and great big values at the special prices quoted.

19c. for Men's Bal-briggan Underwear. This is a lot of broken sizes of plain blue and striped balbriggan. The shirts are 42, 44 and 46—the drawers, 32 to 40.

5c. Leads a Lot of Neckwear Bargains.

New patterns of 10c Madras Club Ties for 5c. All our 50c fancy Silk Neckwear, 15c. All our 25c fancy Silk Neckwear, 15c. SAKS&COMPANY,

MANY MILLIONS INVOLVED. Volumes of Evidence Prepared

in the Potomac Flats Case. The Potomac flats cases now in the United States Supreme Court, according to ex-Judge Conrad, who represents the vernment, involve from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000. A vast amount of Work has been done by Mr. Taggart, who is as-sisting ex-Judge Conrad in the preparation of the case. He has prepared seven volumes of 3,500 pages of evidence, be sides obtaining a vast quantity of lost maps and ancient records.

The case has been running since 1886 and consists of six principal claims, besides that of the Government, as follows: Claim by heir of James Marshall and of the late Chief Justice John Marshall, under grant from the crown of England, from Lord Culpeper, and under deed from Harford, the last proprietary of the province of Maryland. Next is the claim of the Chesa peake & Ohio Canal Company, to riparian rights from Easby's Point to Seventeenth Next in order are the claims by owner of certain squares along the river west of Seventeenth street; claims to ground near the Naval Observatory by descendants of Robert Peter; claim to certain squares facing the river and extending to the linof the Arseual grounds, and last, claims of certain persons occupying wharves below Long Bridge, under license of the Chief of Eugineers of the Army.

MEDICINES THAT WE TAKE Official Report of the President of the Commission of Pharmacy. John T. Winter, president of the District commission of pharmacy, has submitted ds report to the Commissioners. It states that there were 39 pharmacists registered by diplomas, and 9 by examination In all there were 708 registered and practicing during the past fiscal v In their report the commiss the appointment of an inspector of drugs. who would have the right to go into all the pharmacles in the city and condemn any medicine offered for sale which doe not measure up to the requirements of the American Society of Pharmacists.

The creation of such a position, they state, would do much to promote the health fulness of the city by preventing the many adulterations and abuses now practiced by some pharmacists. As an instance of such abuses, the report states that many medicines are constantly being made from inert material, so that a teaspoonful from one stere would not more than equal a few drops of the same medicine from another. It is thus made exceedingly danger ous for the patient who, on taking ar equally large dose of properly made medicine, might codanger his life.
